EuroComit Translation Services

When you wish to reach your customers worldwide, your communication tools, including product brochures, instruction manuals, websites and business correspondence, say as much about you as your products and services themselves. Each communication tool you use conveys the essence of your brand, your company culture and values around the world.
That's why it is so important to communicate in a consistent and engaging manner with all the markets and customers you wish to approach.

EuroComit will work with you to protect and enhance your brand. With our ten-year experience, we can provide you with accurate and consistent translation and localisation solutions in over 70 languages, helping you to meet your customer's needs in terms of quality, technical features, and local cultural requirements.

About us

EuroComit was established in 2004 in Maribor, Slovenia. We are a team of international translators and interpreters specialised in a wide range of different industries in public and private sectors. Our translation, interpreting and proofreading services in over 70 languages cover different types of documents, from simple documents to comprehensive materials written in professional languages, website and product localisation.

Why chose EuroComit?

Our business model is based on quality, flexibility and customer care.

Best value for money

EuroComit offers highly cost effective services. We understand that cost is a key issue for many clients. That's why we are striving for low cost without compromising professional standards. We do not practice any extra charges for special formats, complex services or overnight delivery. We use global solutions to ease transfer of your payments. We grant 10% discount on your first order!

Always accessible, helping you to respect tight deadlines

EuroComit works globally, with a network of freelancers, native speakers, based in all the markets we cover with our translation services. Such a business model enables us to work 24/7. No matter where and when you submit your order, we will contact you and ensure our services will be delivered timely, even in case of tight deadlines.

Manual and machine translations

EuroComit translation services are done by hand. Our native speakers carefully review your documents and provide you with high quality translations. All translations are completed by proofreading and subject to multiple accuracy and quality checks.
Sometimes, customers might need translation very quickly or even in real time. In such cases, we use translation engines based on translation memories and glossaries, with or without post-editing, which enables us to translate large volumes in very short time.

Specialised international teams

EuroComit works with a network of carefully selected native speakers. Our translators have at least six-year experience in translation, interpreting and proofreading services in a wide range of different industries. If necessary, we are able to set up a team of international translators to provide multilingual translations or proofreading for special needs.

Quality management

EuroComit is committed to the highest possible professional standards. Our quality management process enables us to provide accurate translations, free of any errors, while considering professional language, requested formats and local cultural requirements. We appreciate your feedback helping us to improve our services in order to provide you with the best customised solutions.
